ABOUT BARBARA

Dr. Barbara Mutedzi works at the intersection of neuroscience, medical anthropology, and conscious leadership, helping senior leaders and complex organisations build the inner architecture and outer conditions required to lead with clarity and integrity under sustained pressure.

With 25+ years of field experience across Africa, Asia, Europe, and the US and UK, Barbara brings rare depth to the most urgent conversations in leadership today — from AI adoption and ethical governance to psychological safety, culture transformation, and the neuroscience of high performance.

She recently facilitated a session on the Human Side of AI Adoption for World Commerce and Contracting, and presents at the 5th Edition Global Congress on Sepsis and Wound Care in Boston (May 2026) on Human-Centered AI in clinical settings. She is the creator of the evidence-based MUTEDZI 3D Protocol, working across the conscious, subconscious, and superconscious layers of leadership.

Audiences do not leave inspired and then stuck. They leave with language, mental models, and direction they can take back into their teams the same day.
